

YOU
MAKE IT WORK.

We live in contradictory times. The progress of technology allows us global villagers to communicate more efficiently and be more productive than ever. At the same time there are still people in different parts of the world who want be a part of this global conversation and make positive changes in their lives but don't have the means to do so.

We are not claiming to have the all-encompassing answer that solves this issue. What we do know is that there are people all over the world with innovative ideas. Ideas that need other people. And that is where we come in.

WE ARE 1%CLUB.

WHEN WE ALL
PARTICIPATE IN A SMALL WAY,
THE EFFECTS WILL BE MASSIVE.
FOR ALL OF US.

WHAT WE DO

1%CLUB is the online marketplace that connects people with smart ideas in developing countries with people, money and knowledge around the world.

We are talking about sustainable projects that stimulate the self-reliance of individuals anywhere in the world and improve their standard of living.

To achieve this, we need three things: a little bit of your knowledge, money or time. You choose how, when and how much you want to participate. The people that run the projects that you are involved in keep you informed on the progress. It is that simple.

SMART THINKING

It is people that make 1%CLUB work. People who want to improve their lives but do not have the resources, and people who want to help but do not know where to start. What they share is a positive mindset and a fresh perspective; seeing challenges instead of problems, trying to improve a situation, refusing to wait until someone else does it for them, and always focusing on long-term solutions.

1%CLUB lets these change-makers work together on a global scale, unhindered or slowed down by imposed regulations and red tape. We connect them and give them a platform to communicate and - most importantly - get things done. We like to call that smart thinking.

CASE IN POINT

Luuk and Marieke are two researchers from the Netherlands who decided to help a local organisation in Uganda with the design of a bicycle microfinancing plan. The project goal was to encourage the independence of local women.

They posted the project plan on the 1%CLUB site. It was picked up by 34 1%Members who raised 500 euro for the first 15 bicycles. Meanwhile, the local organisation kept the 1%Members up to date through blogging, pictures and video updates. After the realisation of the project the insights gained were also posted online.

COPY PASTE

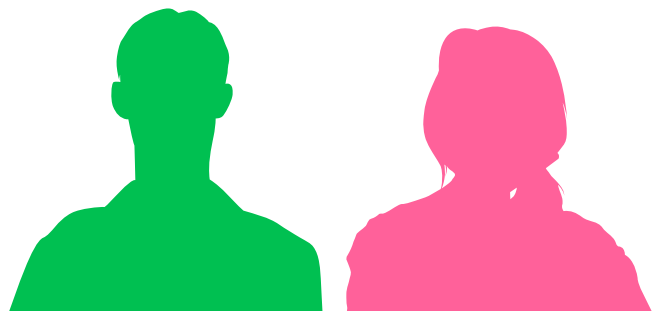

Because of the success of the sustainable approach of the project, the Ugandan organisation decided to put it to use in other countries. Different versions of the project were realised in Ghana (to help women) and in Rwanda (to support students, small entrepreneurs and hospital workers). Through this process they completed five 1%CLUB projects, raising almost 8000 euro.

SPECIFIC NEEDS

For each target group new bicycle designs were introduced: from tricycle bikes for entrepreneurs to bicycle ambulances for hospital workers. Some 1%Members suggested developing a website where people from around the world can help with the design of new bicycles that fit local needs in development countries. Programmers and designers responded and offered their skills to develop a Wikipedia entry with practical information about bike design.
